

Logic Building Assignment : 50

1. Write a program which accept oinformation of students from user and write that information into the file.
2. Write a program which read all the information of students from the file.
3. Write a program which accept file name which contains information of student and isplay only names of students.
4. Write a program which accept file name which contains information of student and display only marks of students.
5. Write a program which accept file name which contains information of student and display addition of marks of all sudents.

